STREET FAKERS COME TO TOWN

The advance agent of a street carnival arrived here this morning with the object of forcing their exhibition on the people of Tonopah who proved such easy marks for the past five years. Under the pretense of helping the American Legion agent is circulating a petition to the town board asking for the privilege of blocking Main street with their horde of disreputable camp followers who make the day and night hideous and inveigle the last cent out of the pockets of parents. Property owners on Brougher avenue have refused permission for the use of ground and every taxpayer on that thoroughfare is determined that he will not be compelled to endure the discomforts to which the street fakers subjected them before. It is urged on the town board that it has no right to grant permission to any private company to occupy the public streets or block the sidewalks when merchants are subject to a heavy fine if they have a case of goods stand in front of their stores for a few hours. The street carnival is no longer tolerated by any self respecting community as experience proves that such outfits are accompanied by elements that endanger the safety of life and property during their stay in town.

MINERS MAY SHIP SILVER

Ordinary silver bullion is accepted at the government mints, according to a message received this morning from Senator Pittman by the Nevada Mine Operators Association. The message was sent to correct the impression reported given by statement that the mints would accept only refined silver at the rate of $1 an ounce.

The message states the mints will accept bullion bars as those come from the smelters and mints as has been the case heretofore.

"If the bullion contains one hundredth part gold it is termed gold deposit," the message states, "and the silver is such gold deposit, no matter how small the large in quantity it may be will be paid for at the rate of a dollar an ounce for each ounce more contained of pure silver or what is termed pure silver minus one hundred and ninety-nine hundredths part. If the bullion contains no gold but contains six hundredths of an ounce of silver then it will be accepted as a silver deposit and paid for in same way. The expression in act one thousand one measures price paid for silver in bullion and does not control purity or kind of bullion received.

"Mints will charge small separation charge that is separation of silver from other metals in bullion, but this charge is always made by smelters at present time I have had this matter up with director of mint and he has given orders in accordance herewith to all mints receiving silver under Pittman act. Under the misinterpretation of act that have referred to it was charged that only refined silver could take the benefit of the act. This of course is not true. In fact under Pittman act, the necessity of sending silver to smelters and refiners is entirely eliminated by reason of publication of government's intentions under Pittman act silver has already gone up above gold silver an ounce.

"Such misconstructions and mis-understandings as I have referred to must be publicly corrected or they will be used for purpose of depressing products of silver and of lowering its price. Such misconstructions will also be used unless publicly and completely contradicted to assist in propaganda for repeal of Pittman act. As long as such act remains on statute books and I can guarantee that it will not be repealed as long as present rate of silver is above American silver will not sell below a dollar an ounce."
